

"Maybe I'll do a favor to the reader telling how it will spend a week in Perugia. His first care will not be in a hurry, to walk everywhere very slowly and aimlessly and observe everything that his eyes meet. "

Henry James, Transatlantic Sketches, 1875

Updated guide dedicated to tourist facilities in the province of Perugia, making quality their main objective, were banners bearing the trademark Italian Hospitality, also recently honored with the patronage of the Ministry of Tourism.

Detailed descriptions of hotels, residences, restaurants, and news of this new edition, holiday cottages and camping sites, forms of that green tourism expression of our own territory.

Thematic areas enrich the help pages: history and artistic treasures, museum tours, nature tours, main events, food and wine and local products.
